About me

Hi! I'm Caroline Dorick. After starting my own business in the beauty industry and providing my service as a professional freelance Makeup Artist and licensed Esthetician more than 20 years ago, there are two things I know very well; how to create beauty and the business of beauty, the rest was a personal and professional journey of learning just like you.

WHAT CAN I DO FOR YOU?

My goal as a purveyor of beauty, has always been to assist people with their desire to enhance their beauty and look their best with makeup and skincare. However, through the years, it became clear that many people I helped did not feel their best without it; their perception of themselves did not match the beauty that I saw in them. That disturbing reality is what inspired me to teach what I know about how to achieve both, as well as how to use it to your advantage in life and business.

It is now my mission to not only enhance your beauty, but help you embrace and empower it! My goal is to educate people on how to obtain WHOLE Beauty. I will provide my most valuable tips, tricks and tools, as well as the resources needed to get started. I will even expose the secret to how to use it to your advantage in life and in business so you can create the beautiful world you deserve.

My approach is simple; create a makeover unlike any other, using me, your Whole Beauty Expert, to support and guide you through the process, so you can achieve your desired results and become your most beautiful potential. I believe the journey to self improvement should be made as easy and effortless as possible and more importantly... I believe you're worth it!
